NO GAME: RAIN. Bulkeley to Try Again Next Wednes-day at Willimantic.

The weather man was again unkind Wednesday, compelling another post-ponement of the game scheduled for Wednesday afternoon here on Windham field with Bulkeley high school of New London and Windham high school of this city.

Notwithstanding the threatening prospects the visiting team dressed and were ready to go on the field when the rain commenced to pour down steadily, so it was mutually decided to call the game off. The weather man was again unkind

A vicious Beast.

A vicious Ayrshire bull attacked John Weaver, who has a milk route in Danielson, was leading the bull, with a balter, from one trampled on. Finally he managed to escape by climbing over a wall, the buil making one final and effective plunge at him. The fact that the buil has no horns and Mr. Weaver's tenacious hold of the rope probably prevented a fatal termination of the incident. As it was, Mr. Weaver was badly battered. The buil is about three years old and was formerly owned by Daniel Wood of the Green Hollow road. There was a time, about two years ago, when the buil was tractable, that he was driven to a wag-on harnessed much the same as a on harnessed much the same as a horse, and attracted considerable at-tention. Today the beast is of a far less peaceful disposition.

WORK OF TRAMPS Cottages at Lake Used as Dormitories by Knights of the Road.

It has come to the knowledge of cottage owners on the south shore of Al-exander's Lake that tramps have been using the pretty little summer homes as lodging houses. Entrance has been effected by breaking out the glass in the windows, after the shutters had been forced open. Evidently the practice of sleeping in one of the cottages has been a preprint thing as blankets. has been a regular thing, as blankets brought in by the squatters were found by the owner.

The attention of officers has been called to the matter. This is not the first season the cottages have been broken into . It seems to be the regular thing each spring. Milk Taken for Inspection.

Eugene Thetreault, the crack second baseman of the Putnam Eastern Con-necticut league team, is in receipt of a letter from Manager Jesse Burkett of the Worcester New England league of the Worcester New England league team inviting him to go up to Worcester for a tryout.

Burkett knows what a good ball player Thetreault is from personal observation of his work and it looks like a good chance for the Putnam boy to break into faster company. He should have reported to the Worcester manager Wednesday. Thetreault, however, exhibits little concern about his chance to make a fast league team and has practically decided not to take a chance of climbing to basehall fame with Worcester as the stepping stone. He is one of the best second basemen in this part of the state and his friends know he could make a success in faster company if he desired to do so.

There was general satisfaction among the members of the Thirteenth company Wednesday, as a result of the favorable attitude of the joint committee on military affairs relative to the purchase of the Danielson armony by the state. Public Not Used to New Train. As yet the new 4.30 p. m. north-bound passenger train out of Putnam for Worcester is not being liberally patronized. Wednesday only two pasengers went out on the train and the usiness every day since Monday, when t was put on, has been extremely ight. Southbound, however, the train s proving a much appreciated accom-nodation by Worcester and Webster usiness man. As Low as 34 Degrees. The indications on Wednesday even-ing were that the low temperature of the morning did not seriously injure growing things in this vicinity. Some strawberry plants were cut down, but with that exception vegetation escaped injury. Thermometers registered as low as 34 degrees in lowland sections, according to reports of observers.

The Narrow Path. It has come to notice that there are some things about the new Putnam station, or at least the arrangement of the frontage opposite it, not as intended they should be. For one thing, the spaces between the tracks and iron subway fences are so narrow and to narrow the part of the par as not to permit the passage of a lader aggage or express truck when a train in on track 2 or 3 without scraping the sides of the cars.

Temporal and Spiritual Prosperity of M. E. Society-John Clarke's Death -Judge H. H. Burnham Entertains Town Court Officials.

Since the coming of the present paster of the Methodist Episcopal church, last April, the society has been busy along various lines of activity. The parsonage was very much in need of minor repairs. The Ladies' Aid society set to work to put it in repair by papering, adorning and beautifying. The trustees, after looking over the situation were convinced that now was the time to connect with the sewer and install a bathroom and lavatory which was done with promptness. When ready to connect the hot water tank with the range, attention was called by Mrs. John Walpole of the Ladies' Aid society that the range had better be set aside and a new one purchased.
